Background:

A copy of the proposed membership for the Workforce Investment Board and Youth Council is on file with the Clerk of the Board.

The Board of Supervisors is requested to adopt a resolution reappointing Yale Abrams, Ed Barr, Judy Coffey, Carla Howell, Stephen Jackson, Bill Nordskog, Chris Paige, Chuck Robbins, Corey Turner, Jack Wolf, Carl Wong, Lee Alderman and Craig Schmidt to the Workforce Investment Board and reappointing Stephen Jackson, Tom Bieri, Valerie McKamey, and Katrina Thurman to the Youth Education & Employment Services Council.

The Workforce Investment Act (WIA) regulations established that the Sonoma County Workforce Investment Board (WIB) and its Youth Education & Employment Services Council would serve as policy oversight bodies for its employment and training programs. The law requires that appointments to these bodies be made by local elected officials.

Federal requirements mandate most categories of WIB membership and the minimum number of members required in those categories, with the additional requirement of maintaining a majority of business members. As authorized under WIA and SB293, membership of the Sonoma County WIB presently comprises fifty-five members, including 28 business members, 5 members from educational institutions, 7 local labor organization members, 3 community based organization members, 2 economic development agency members, and 10 representatives of the required partners of Sonoma County’s one-stop, Job Link. Members are not appointed by supervisorial district, but on a county-wide basis, and must have a high degree of policymaking and hiring authority within the organizations they represent. In addition, the WIB seeks members who have expertise in Sonoma County’s important or emergent employment sectors, such as health care, hospitality, and green technology or who provide workforce-related services to employers, employees or job seekers. Applications are reviewed by the WIB Executive Committee and then recommended to the Board of Supervisors for appointment.
