Ready or not, here they come – Generation Y! In the history of work, this is the first time there has been four generations in the workplace. And, in the next five years Generation Y (aged 13-30) is expected to make up 40% of the workforce. But will we all get along? Yes, but only if you come to this class. If you do, you will understand the unique traits of each of the four generations in the workplace, deal with conflicts between those traits, break down barriers to effective communication, and identify and employ the key motivators in each group.
